

Note THJ: These two documents were obtained from the CBG in 2006 from their archive files as typescript copies in Dutch. The CBG Reference says the research was commissioned by H.C. Van Vulpen but the name of the researcher isn't given (WvR?). The MSF Kemp article in gens Nostra 1971 No4-5 p154-162 and 253-260 mentions this research on page 25. The 1966 Research seems to start with Ockert van Vulpen and, having traced back three generations to Jacob Jansz Van Vulpen (born~1650), the second piece of research was commissioned to find earlier generations.

Van Vulpen 1

Van Vulpen
(Beesd)

Research was undertaken in the Rijksarchief of Arnhem into the origins of Ockert Van Vulpen who, as a young man of Beesd, married Syke Steiland on the 21 June 1760. Their oldest son, Jan was baptised at Tricht on the 28 Nov 1762.

In the oldest preserved baptism register of Beesd that remains, which begins from 1720, the baptism of Ockert van Vulpen was not found.

Despite this, his parents may be identified with certainty: a Jan Jacobsz van Vulpen, who was married to Aaltje Ockertsdr van Der Pijl, had a son Jacobus baptised in Beesd in 1721 and a son Arien in 1724.

It appears from a list of members found in this baptismal register that this couple transferred with an attestation from [the church of] Ingen.

Whether Ockert was baptised in that place is not traceable, for the baptism registers of Ingen for the period 1718-1772 are missing.

A brief search in the judicial archive of Beesd brought a number of documents to light, from which came evidence that Jan Jacobsz van Vulpen was the oldest son of Jacob Jansz van Vulpen a farmer of Marienweerd (situated to the east of Beesd)

This Jacob Jansz van Vulpen was, among other things, an alderman of Beesd in 1693 and he was a feudal tenant of Gelderland (see register of tenancies, Nijmegen Quarter page 773). Evidence from the Muschart heraldic collection of the Central Bureau of genealogy shows that Jacob Jansz van Vulpen on the 12 Jan 1712 and 3 Sept 1732, used a seal with the following emblem: on silver, a cross chequered in gold and black between a crest of antique wings. A sketch of the emblem follows.

[Note: the above-mentioned sketch does not appear in the copies of this research provided to me by the CBG in July 2006 but is probably similar to the seal of Jan Van Wjick van Velpen dated 1443 shown in the article on the Van Vulpen family by MSF Kemp in Gens Nostra 1971 (No 5 page 260). See below : THJ]

Continuing Research van Vulpen (Beesd)

This research was continued in the State Archives of Gelderland in Arnhem. In the first place the Loofsignaten [Page name references] of the land transfer registers were thoroughly examined for the period 1572 to 1740, with the result that the members of a further three generations could be extended, while at the same time a fairly comprehensive branch of the genealogy could be added.

The oldest ancestor presently known, Dirck Joostensz van Velpen, seems to have been in Beesd before 1586. The fact that he was a schepen in that place at that time, as were later his son and grandsons, supposes that he must have been born in Beesd.

However, between 1572 and 1586 we found no mention, neither of him nor a Joost who could have been his father.

Before 1572, there is a break in the transfer registers. In those covering the years 1539 to 1553 that we briefly examined, we found no further indication.

The family name was originally always written van VELPEN; in the second half of the 17th century came also van VULPEN, which eventually became the dominant form.

The fact that a family called van Vulpen in Neerlandbroek, Cothen and Amerongen used the same coat-of-arms - a chequered cross, makes one think that there is a common origin apparently in the first half of the 16th century. However it is a question whether this supposition will ever be proved.

Because the earliest preserved baptism and marriage registers of Beesd remain only from 1720, naturally the baptism and marriage data of the older generations is missing. Birth data of the ancestors in the direct line are worked out from information already known.

Research in a collection of tenancy registers of Culemborg (manuscript by Mr A.P. van Schilgaarde, Rijksarchief Arnhem) produced no other information.
